If the life insured is diagnosed with a TI while the policy is in force, the death benefit will be accelerated in a lump sum.

Definition of TI
Any condition caused by illness or injury, where at the time of claim, despite all reasonable medical treatment, the life insured is expected to live for no more than 12 months.
The medical examiner treating the condition must provide supporting evidence of the condition, possible medical treatment, the prognosis after undergoing the possible medical treatment, and certify that the life insured is expected to live for no more than 12 months despite all possible medical intervention. We reserve the right to appoint an independent medical examiner who is an expert in the condition to confirm the diagnosis and prognosis.
TI in the presence of human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) infection is excluded.

The maximum which we will pay for TI claim(s) (aggregating all policies which we are liable for on the same life) is S$1 million. When we make payment for TI benefit, we will reduce the critical illness limit (where applicable) by the amount we have paid. The policy will remain in force for death benefit if the policy sum insured is not fully paid following the TI claim.

This policy is guaranteed renewable, without evidence of health, at the end of the policy term for the same duration. This policy will be automatically renewed as long as the policy is in force and premium is paid by the grace period.
